STORY FIGHTING FOR HIS LIBERTY

CASHIER OF THE BELLEVILLE BANK ON TRIAL IN MADISON.

SAYS MERELY MISTAKES

Says Errors Discovered Merely Crept In Through Blunders in Bookkeeping.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 30.—Chalmers, that his alleged defalcation of $23,000 from the Citizens' State Bank of Belleville, this county, was simply a matter of errors in bookkeeping and that he did nothing criminal, Edwin C. Story, former cashier of that bank, who whose the condition of that bank was discovered took a dose of potash in a supposed attempt at suicide, is making a strenuous fight to escape a penitentiary sentence, in the preliminary examination the state has already introduced damaging evidence from the books of the bank in the handwriting of Story. Evidence was put into the record showing that by false entries, Story made a fictitious showing of about $3,000 in the account of his bank with the First National bank of Monroe, Wis. Also that his false entries made a fake showing of $9,000 in the loans and discounts, and about $5,000 in the deposits. It is expected that testimony of representatives from the Merchants Loan and Trust of Chicago in connection with the Story records in his bank will show false entries in that account of about $7,000. These are the things which the state now is proving against Story, making up the charges that he diverted $23,000 of the money of the bank. The state is represented by Attorney General Gilbert, acting for the state commissioner of banking, and District Attorney Mason for the county. The defendant is represented by J. M. Clancy, one of the leading attorneys of Wisconsin. Miss Lulu Story, daughter of the alleged defaulter, who is a woman of exceptional personal beauty, sits constantly at the side of her father in court and is assisting him in the fight to save him from prison. She is a graduate of the Art Institute of Chicago and has made the home in Belleville beautiful with great hand paintings. The defense attorneys show that unrecorded overdrafts are responsible for the apparent shortage.

NEW ENGLAND WILL SEND UNINSTRUCTED DELEGATES

Plan To Act As A Unit And Will Thus Have Eighty-Two Votes To Cast.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Boston, Mass., April 30.—The Maine republican convention which meets at Portland today completes the list of the republican state conventions in New England, excepting Connecticut, in which state the convention will meet next week. The situation in Maine with regard to preference for a presidential candidate appears to be very similar to the conditions in Massachusetts. Taft sentiment seems to predominate, but apparently is not strong enough to result in an instructed delegation for the secretary of war.

Three months ago Speaker Cannon seemed to be the strongest of the republican presidential aspirants so far as the Pine Tree state was concerned. He was looked upon with favor by the republican state organization, while Taft appeared to have few active workers in the state. But during the past few months the situation has materially changed. Senator Frye, who is one of the biggest men in Maine politics, declared his adherence to the candidacy of Secretary Taft. His example was followed by ex-Governor John P. Hill, national committeeman, and a number of other of the foremost leaders among the republicans of Maine. Recently the Taft boom has assumed such proportions that his campaign managers have ventured the prediction that today's convention would decide to send a delegation to Chicago pledged to vote for the secretary of war. Unhindered onlookers, however, remain of the opinion that the delegation will be uninstructed.

If Maine sends an uninstructed delegation, it will mean that she is acting in accordance with the policy which has been prescribed by the politicians for the entire New England delegation. Unquestionably there is a lack of understanding, if not a direct agreement, among the republican leaders of the six New England states to have uninstructed delegations from each, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Vermont and New Hampshire have already acted in accordance with this policy.

It is asserted that, acting as a unit, New England will have a much stronger voice in the determination of a candidate than would be the case should each state express an individual preference. Acting in unison New England would have eighty-two votes, four more than New York can cast and considerably more than any other state has. It is asserted that, following precedent, the delegations from this section should go to Chicago, ascertain and consider the situation and the needs of the republican party, and then vote for the candidate best qualified to lead to victory upon the platform to be adopted. The pro-administration men have opposed this plan, insisting that uninstructed delegations mean anti-Taft sentiment and anti-Taft delegations. They have been somewhat reconciled to the plan, however, by the fact that a large proportion of the delegates already chosen are avowed Taft men. This will probably be the case in Maine, if Senator Frye can be prevailed upon to reconsider his early determination not to be a candidate he probably will be selected to head the Maine delegation to Chicago. The others whose names are most prominently mentioned in connection with the "big four" are John P. Hill, the national committeeman; Frederick A. Powers, a former judge of the supreme court of Maine, and E. P. Ricker of Poland Spring.

BOXERS ARE READY FOR FIGHT TONIGHT

Abe Attell and Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan Meet in Twenty- Round Fight.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
San Francisco, Cal., April 30.—Not for a long time has so much interest been displayed in a pugilistic event hereabouts as is manifested in the bout between Abe Attell and Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan, which is to be decided in the Coliseum tonight. Both fighters are reported today to be in the best of condition, a fact which gives promise of some of the prettiest boxing seen in California in many a day.

This will be the third time that Attell has defended his championship title against the Brooklyn fighter. On the occasion of their first meet, which took place in St. Louis, Sullivan knocked out Attell decisively, being the only fighter who ever turned the trick. Last summer the two fought a draw at Atlanta.

The agreement for the present match calls for twenty rounds at 125 pounds, a weight which is much more favorable to the champion than to Sullivan. A preliminary event of fifteen rounds is to be furnished by Fred Landers and Johnny Frayne. Johnny Summers vs. "Kid" Sullivan. Baltimore, Md., April 30.—Johnny Summers, the 120-pound champion of the British Isles, and "Kid" Sullivan of Washington are to clash in a fifteen-round battle tonight before Al Herford's Europa club. Summers recently won much favorable attention here by his decisive defeat of Soldier Burns. As he and Sullivan have practically the same style of fighting their meeting is expected to furnish a fast and interesting contest.

The Hydrocurve Boat and Its Designer, Carey A. Manker.

The hydrocurve boat, a new invention by Mr. Manker, is designed to revolutionize navigation almost as radically as did Fulton's first steamboat. Mr. Manker has been working for years in scientific study and research to produce an entirely new shape of hull, which will glide over the water rather than through it. Mr. Manker early in his experiments saw his task was to design a hull which will handle the water with the least possible expense of power, common sense with high speed. He began by increasing the "throw off" surface from one-third to the full length of the hull in contact with the water. "The new longitudinal lines, which thus differentiate the hydrocurve from all others express in diagrammatic form the law of accelerated motion. The water is moved at one-third the speed it is moved in the ordinary boat and handled accordingly to its natural flow, every particle of water being set in motion gradually and handled with the least possible application of power. He has discarded Peter Coroner Howitt's idea of gliding boats with outstretched wings and has produced the same gliding results with his hydrocurve hull. The real commercial importance of this boat was brought to the attention of the President during his recent trip down the Mississippi, in which Mr. Manker's boat served as messenger for the flotilla. This little boat has frequently traveled at the rate of 30 knots an hour, and it is claimed it can even attain a speed of 70 knots an hour with sufficient power.

FOOTBALL IN ENGLAND.

London.—London has gone crazy over football. This game differs from the American style but is quite as interesting.

All records for football crowds in Great Britain were broken at Hampden park, Glasgow, when England and Scotland met in their annual match, which resulted in a draw, each team scoring one goal. The number of spectators that passed through the turnstiles went between 120,000 and 130,000, thus wiping out the attendance of 110,000 at the Palace during the year England won the cup. Upward of $25,000 was taken in at the gate, and $10,000 additional at the stands, for which the tickets were sold a week before the match.

The finely appointed grounds of the Queen's Park Field club, the premier amateur organization of Scotland, were well filled an hour before the contest started. Thousands more struggled in through the 51 turnstiles, and when the gates had to be closed, thousands were left outside. Soon the pressure on the bands within the enclosure became so great, and the crowd invaded the track which surrounded the playing space. For a time it looked as if the match could not be played, but the police managed to keep the spectators out of the center of the field.

FLEET IS ON ITS WAY TO MONTEREY

DANCE OF FLOWERS THE LAST EVENT IN SANTA BARBARA.

ENLISTED MEN NEGLECTED

Citizens Don't Blame Them for Demolishing Restaurant—Torpedo Flotilla Ordered to San Pedro.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Apr. 30.—After a stay of five days in this port, the Atlantic fleet of battleships sailed Thursday morning at six o'clock for Monterey, the next scheduled stopping place on the long itinerary.

A dance of flowers Wednesday night in honor of the officers of the fleet, in which 40 of the young women of Santa Barbara took part, was the closing feature of the entertainment here. The dance was given on the Plaza del Mar, where a large tent had been erected.

The visit to Santa Barbara has been replete with social functions in honor of the officers, but the stay of the enlisted men has not been an entirely happy one. No special entertainment was arranged for them, and they were allowed to go their own ways without official attention of any sort.

Orders to Torpedo Flotilla. Admiral Thomas issued orders to Lieutenant Commander Conne, commanding the second torpedo flotilla, now at San Diego, to proceed to San Pedro and spend as much time there as possible, allowing a sufficient interval for the flotilla to reach Santa Cruz and join the fleet on the morning of May 4.

The Kansas was placed under partial quarantine Wednesday by the medical authorities aboard on account of a supposed case of spinal meningitis, which developed aboard.

Admiral Thomas Wednesday received a committee of women from San Francisco, headed by Mrs. Arthur H. Cornwall. The committee has in charge the arrangements for the ball which is to be given to the bluejackets in San Francisco.

Angry Tare Not Blamed.

The incident of Tuesday night in which a small restaurant was partially demolished by indignant sailors, was not officially reported to the flagship to a late hour Wednesday. There is no outward disposition on the part of even the citizens of Santa Barbara to blame the bluejackets for their drastic action for alleged ill treatment of them. No further trouble is looked for. Wednesday vendors on the wharf before which the fleet was anchored were busy selling bits of broken glass from the damaged building as souvenirs of the occasion. Twenty-five and 50 cents were asked for the mementoes.

PLEADS GUILTY OF MURDER.

R. W. Gott Gets Ten Years for Slaying Dr. Danziger.

Cincinnati, Apr. 30.—Robert W. Gott pleaded guilty in Judge Hunt's court Wednesday to the murder of Dr. Leo Danziger, a prominent physician of this city, and was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

Gott shot and killed Dr. Danziger three months ago during the doctor's visit to Anna Spangler, the 16-year-old niece of Gott. It was the announced opinion of attorneys that Gott killed the physician during an attack of temporary insanity caused by fear of what may have been told Dr. Danziger by the girl. The Gott family came here from West Virginia.

Washington Population 339,403. Washington, Apr. 30.—According to the police census just taken, the population of Washington is 339,403, an increase of 9,812 over last year. There are 241,920 whites and 97,483 negroes.

IOWA'S DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR GOVERNOR.

Des Moines, Iowa.—The Hon. Fred E. White of South English, ex-congressman, has just been made the democratic nominee for governor of Iowa and it is said has been promised the portfolio of agriculture in Wm. Bryan's cabinet in case the latter is elected. Mr. White is a German farmer. After his first term in congress he was defeated for re-election by Congressman John Lacey. Then he ran two different times for governor and claims to have been defeated each time because of party differences. After each political campaign he returned to his plow, like Virginia's old. While in congress he made a speech on tariff which is credited with being one of the clearest arguments ever made. It was translated into various languages.

NEW BILL FROM VREELAND

ANOTHER CURRENCY MEASURE INTRODUCED BY HIM.

Represents Views of Republican Leaders in the House—Davis Jumps on Foraker.

Washington, Apr. 30.—As the result of a series of conferences between Republican leaders in the house, Representative Vreeland of New York late Wednesday introduced a bill to take the place of the currency bill presented by him last week.

In the new bill, which is declared to represent the views of a substantial majority of the Republican members and which is the measure that will be presented to the conference of the Republicans of the house to be held within a few days, nothing is left of the Aldrich currency bill except the provision for the payment of interest on government deposits in national banks. The provisions for the issuance of emergency currency on corporate bonds are entirely swept away.

The new bill provides for the formation of national clearing house associations of not less than ten national banks having an aggregate capital and surplus of not less than $5,000,000. A tax of four per cent. on emergency circulation based on clearing house association securities is provided for the first month, this tax to be increased one per cent. each month until it reaches ten per cent. where it is to remain until the circulation is retired.

Another section of the bill provides for the creation of a currency commission to consist of six members of the house, six of the senate and six to be appointed by the president.

Senator Davis of Arkansas created a mild sensation in the senate Wednesday when, in discussing his resolution calling on the secretary of the interior for information about the tribal rolls of the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians of Oklahoma, he declared that 10,000 names were being kept off the rolls by the secretary and instanced a case in which, he said, nine members of a family were rated as negroes and only one as an Indian.

Advancing toward Mr. Foraker of Ohio, his voice thundered throughout the chamber and adjacent halls as he asked if the Ohio senator "loved negroes" so well why did he not come forward and defend those members of that race. Only laughter greeted this and Mr. Foraker requested in a mild tone that the senator speak louder. Later Mr. Davis' resolution was passed.

All the pension bills on the calendar and many other measures of minor importance were passed during the day.

MORE PAPER TRUST EVIDENCE.

Committee Impressed by Extraordinary Increase in Price.

Washington, Apr. 30.—More evidence tending to show that there is a combination of paper manufacturers to fix the price of news print paper in the United States, was adduced Wednesday before the special committee of the house which is investigating the subject of duty on wood pulp and print paper as affecting the price in the United States.

John Norris of the New York Times and representing the paper committee of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, continued his testimony and presented numerous letters and documents to bear out his contention. Apparently the committee was particularly impressed with the annual statement of the International Paper company for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1907, showing an increased cost of production of 60 cents a ton as against the price of paper of $12 a ton. Chairman Mann, appreciating the importance of this testimony, announced that he would go to the bottom to ascertain the cause of so large an increase in the price of paper.

Foreigners with Criminal Records at Home Being Deported.

Washington, Apr. 30.—In the roundup of anarchists of foreign birth by the authorities of various large cities of the country, working in co-operation with the United States immigration officials, a good many foreigners with criminal records in their own country have been discovered. The cases of these men are being investigated by the immigration officers and where the facts warrant the action they are being deported from America.

Western Men Get Consulates.

Washington, Apr. 30.—The president sent to the senate Wednesday the following nominations: To be consuls—Julian H. Arnold of California, at Arroyo, China; Carl F. Delchman of Missouri, at Tamsui, Formosa; Charles E. Eberhardt of Kansas, at Barranquilla, Colombia; George Helmrod of Nebraska, at Berno, Switzerland. To be receiver of public money at Blackfoot, Idaho, Thomas R. Hamer.

THE ROUNDUP COLUMN.

West Talks About the Baseball Fans and Tells a Yarn—Other Topics.

If you meet a man on the street these days whose face is beaming with smiles and whose whole attitude betokens a light, cheery heart, take out your little memorandum book and jot him down as a dyed in the wool baseball fan, for the fans are the happiest people along the line just now, and well they may be. Nightly meetings of the different branches of the Fans Gabbfest society are held all over the country. Many suggestions are offered for the improvement of the game, merits of the different players are discussed, and many other subjects pertaining to the game are taken up by the society.

Every baseball player in the profession should be thankful for the existence of the fans, even if they are prone to deride poor plays in a manner distinctly unamiable and to continually offer suggestions as to the proper methods for permanent winning. The fans are the real simon pure enthusiasts. They worship baseball and baseball players even as a Chinese housewife worships her Joss and chop suey, and they alone keep alive the traditions of the old time days when Mike Soudso held the Swatters down to a single hit in the thirteen innings and when in the ninth, with three men on base and two out, game of the year, Eddie Lang sent the ball over the center field fence for a home run, winning the pennant for the Pantown Biffers.

THE GOOD OLD BASKETBALL HOOTER IS WITH US AGAIN.

Champion Wrestler Frank Gotch is certainly in a class by himself. He can bar the too bold, keep his eye on the reserved seats and still win matches. Quake, a western thoroughbred two-year-old horse, foaled on the night of the San Francisco upheaval, will attempt to shake things up on the eastern race tracks this year. Champion Jim Jeffries is now realizing that it is more difficult to promote prize fighting than it is to retard it.

Golf is a backward game. Although centuries old, it still relies upon such a primitive transportation method as walking.

Dare to do right and you will soon have a reputation for being poor, but honest.

You can give some people a piece of your mind without improving their mentality.

Ossie Schreck, the famous one-hand catcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, is perhaps the greatest pie eater among the professional ball players of today. Ossie can eat pie at any and all times, declares his brother ball tossers. Con-

That's the kind of a revolt, Mike, that I would like to put down.

Mike Powers, the doctor, who is a close student of all things pertaining to the medical profession, was the other day reading a treatise entitled "The Revolution in the Mince Pie" when Ossie Schreck happened along, and, glancing over Mike's shoulder, his eye took in the title of the work. Turning to the little doctor, he exclaimed: "That's the kind of a revolt, Mike, that I would like to put down."

After a man has reaped his golden harvest it is easy enough for him to preach the doctrine of making hay while the sun shines.

Other Qualities Needed. It frequently happens that a man who is as honest as the day is long can present no other recommendation.

THE NEXT BUSINESS UPLIFT

The optimistic views expressed by Vice President Brown of the New York Central lines regarding the business outlook are worthy of the thoughtful attention of all businessmen. Mr. Brown believes that the darkest hour of the industrial depression is now being experienced and that by the first of June a material improvement will set in. Moreover, he believes that the coming period of prosperity will be more permanent than any in the past because it will be built upon a foundation of civic and commercial integrity, such as the country has not recently known.

This is a striking declaration from a man of influence in the business world. There can be, it seems to us, no question of a doubt as to the soundness of Mr. Brown's prophecy. It seems inconceivable that there should be any rebound from the high standards of trustworthiness that have been established in the corporation world. It is inconceivable that all that has been gained and gained, too, at a fearful cost, for civic and commercial honor should be swept away by a returning tide of prosperity. We shall enter upon the new era of industrial activity with a wider knowledge and a more intelligent conscience than ever before.

The chief danger to be guarded against in the future is that the political organization which has necessarily been created for the purpose of providing "an adequate sovereign" for the great interstate corporations shall be carried to a point where it will be an instrument of political oppression instead of an instrument of protection against financial oppression. As we have in the past few years been legislating against the evil of financial concentration, so we must now guard against the evil of excessive political centralization.

As far as the railroads are concerned, it would appear that they are now facing better prospects of business. The crop outlook could not be better. The success of the Pennsylvania loan shows that there is money to be obtained for railroad securities representing high class credit. The advance in freight rates should enable the railroads to maintain existing rates of wages and at the same time increase their earning power.

South Orange, N. J., trustees would like to know if they can pass an ordinance forbidding dogs and cats and roosters to disturb the peace between ten p. m. and six a. m. That's easy. In the words of the legal light who told the council that they had the right to elect whom they pleased city marshal, but he did not know what the court might decide. Of course they can.

The tireless work of the scientists in the department of agriculture at Washington in seeking out the farthest portions of the earth to secure specimens of grains and fruits that can be adapted to the soil of the United States is bringing forth results in the strange assortment of products that can be found within the boundaries of the union.

Pennsylvania has given its delegates to Knox, thus completing the chain of states with favorites to this honor or their state candidate with the exception of Wisconsin which sends one lonely Taft delegate to the national convention of the republicans in Chicago.

A man gave himself up to the Sheriff of Kenosha county and told how he made a screw-driver out of a penny and by this means escaped from the Menomota asylum. Pennies are often used to buy screw-drivers, but this is the first time one has been used as a screw-driver.

It is said that baseball has even invaded the sacred precincts of the German court and that the Kaiser and Crown Prince are trying to popularize the sport in the Empire. Nothing too good for the Fatherland.

Bryan and Johnson appear to be still fighting each other. If the New England states send unimpaired delegations there is a possibility that Mr. Johnson of Minnesota may get the nomination after all.

Congressman Lenoe comments on the president by saying that he lacks pulse and is shy on dignity. Well, a wooden Indian has both, but he might make the sort of a President the present congress seems to desire.

The wood pulp trust is now sitting up and taking notice. Even Uncle Joe will see a few things he did not know before if the present plans of the trust of this paper combination gets in its expected work.

Sam Brown still works nights protecting the city's interests as patrolman and the little clique of adherents who seek to run things aided by a zealous city official still refuse to give him his salary.

Sherrill Becker really believes that his automobile-balloon campaign will land him in the gubernatorial chair at Madison. It is said he has had thousands of pictures of himself printed talking from a balloon.

There is still time for congress to go to work and do some good before the adjournment time comes. They should have some sort of a record to stand on if they wish reelection.

Wall street has those fainting spells every time Roosevelt throws a brick at predatory wealth. Sometime it may die from the effects of these stinging fits.

Rabaul refuses to be killed even if the natives of Tangiers hoped the story was true. He is still ready to be a good or a bad hand just as the opportunity comes.

The infusion of young blood in the senate seems nothing short of profanation to the old Methuselahs of that august organization.

The comments on the Merry Widow hat are no numerous that it is really one of the best advertised concoctions ever put on the market.

Just a few more state delegations instructed for Taft and he can move off the anxious seat and begin writing his speech of acceptance.

The Chicago Board of Trade is going to so arrange that a corner in wheat or corn or oats can not be obtained by any one or clique.

Everyone looks forward to May as a genuine spring month. The flowers are all supposed to start blooming at this time.

Yates and Deane are having it hot and heavy down in Illinois, both seeking the republican nomination for Governor on their past records.

Sometimes but corporations reform for the same reason that a rabbit climbs a tree when a dog is after it—because it must.

Taft has gathered Colorado into his arms in a close embrace and even Mississippi sent a split delegation favoring him.

Wisconsin's Leading Advertising Agency

The growth of any business, from small beginnings to where the same firm occupies thousands of feet of floor space and employs trained specialists by the dozen, cannot fail to be filled with the interest that is created by every story of success.

The history of The Cramer-Krasselt company of Milwaukee, the leading advertising agency of the Badger state, is just such a story. Some time ago, the heads of this great institution were publishing a bicycle paper, and not a very big bicycle paper at that. Today, they occupy 15,000 square feet of floor space on the ground floor of the C-K building, one of the largest office buildings in Milwaukee, and employ about 100 people, practically each of whom is a specialist in his own work.

When The Cramer-Krasselt company first started in the advertising agency business, Milwaukee was a field for advertising was not looked upon very highly, and yet today, numerous large accounts are passing through the hands of this enterprising and aggressive firm. Their work has been largely creative and by their steady adherence to correct principles of advertising, The Cramer-Krasselt company have taught no small number of advertisers the true value of commercial publicity when properly used. In fact, it would not be an exaggeration to say that The Cramer-Krasselt company have done more than any other firm in the state of Wisconsin to place Milwaukee on the map in the minds of the citizens of the United States.

A walk through The Cramer-Krasselt establishment, will impress one with the magnitude of their business, and the phenomenal growth of advertising in the last decade.

Needed Improvement.
This world would be a brighter world if the man who knows it all and the man who insists on telling us what we already know could be shut up together.

MRS. ALICE WEBB, DIVORCED WIFE OF MILLIONAIRE B. L. DUKE IN JAIL ON A FRAUD CHARGE.

Chicago, Ill., April 21.—Mrs. Alice Webb-Duke, who declares herself the owner of 22,000 acres of tobacco land in Texas, on which a valuation of $5,000,000 is placed by her, spent last night in the county jail, unable to procure bonds of $2,000 on charges of having passed two worthless checks, aggregating $75. She was held to the grand jury on the charges yesterday by Municipal Judge Heffler.

Long-continued prosecution by powerful business influences are alleged by her as the cause of her imprisonment, and she intimates that, to destroy evidence held by her, agents of her enemies twice have set fire to hotels in which she was staying. She declares that the recent fire in the Grand Pacific hotel, which started near her room, came after men vainly had tried to break into her apartments to obtain the evidence.

"I am almost broken down by illness," said Mrs. Duke last night, "but they will have to kill me before I cease fighting. These trumped-up charges and locking me up in police stations and jail never will do it."

Philosophy and Religion.
Philosophy is a bully that talks very loud, when the danger is at a distance; but the moment she is hard pressed by the enemy, she is not to be found at her post, but leaves the brunt of the battle to be borne by her humbler but sturdier comrade, religion.—Caleb C. Colton.

YOU KNOW

That you have often met people who had such a small number of teeth as to cause astonishment.

This indicates just what many people are doing today.

Failing to care for their teeth at the proper time.

Little unnoticed decay grows larger just as sure as they are there. Just such cavities, I fill quickly at a price that doesn't cause regret for having it done, and it will please you to know that your teeth are sound.

If you have lost a tooth I can quickly get another in its place with such art that your best friends will never detect it.

You'll be glad to tell others how careful and satisfactory are my operations.

ACTUAL WORK IS BEGUN ON SURVEY

INTERURBAN FROM JANESVILLE TO MADISON BEING LAID OUT.

ENGINEER JELLIS STARTS

First Steps Taken This Afternoon on the Corner of Main and Milwaukee Streets.

Chief Engineer Joseph Jellis of the proposed Janesville-Madison Interurban road began actual operations this afternoon when his surveying party started work at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets and began the running of the transit from this city to Madison, via Edgerton, Stoughton, Ladue, Kegonsa, Lake Waubesa and South Madison.

Will Rush Ahead
Expect to reach Edgerton, or just this side, by Saturday night, and all the way to Madison by Sunday. We will leave Edgerton by Monday and push the work as rapidly as possible, as there is much to be done before the application for the franchise from the railroad commission is made. Mr. Jellis will return on Saturday and will personally handle the matters of the work aside from the survey.

Possible Route
"I shall run my first line directly out of the city via North Main street and will follow the river very closely for some distance. From Edgerton we are to go in an air line to Stoughton and then tap Lake Kegonsa. My first survey will be on the west side of this lake and we leave this lake and reach the western end of Lake Waubesa as direct as possible. From there into Madison the line is not certain, but with all probability, it will go through South Madison."

Then followed Shakespeare's life by Emma Richardson, and the setting of Shakespeare's time as compared to that of ours, by Clara Blodgett. The last number was the court scene from "The Merchant of Venice." The different parts were taken by the following people: Edith Severhill, Duke of Venice; Vera Nolan, Antonio; Hallie Turner, Shylock; Carrie Sholes, Bassanio; Mary Stewart, Gratiano; Grace Estes, Salanio; Phoebe McManus, Portia; William Jones, Portia; and Hazel Fisher, clerk of court.

REV. MEDES WAS SURPRISED BY PARTY

Divine Who Leaves This Week for Benton, Illinois, Surprised Last Evening.

A delegation of the friends of Rev. J. L. Medes and family came up on the interurban last evening from Beloit to give them a farewell visit as they leave for their future home in Benton, Ill., Friday morning.

Rev. J. L. Medes conducted two series of revival meetings in Beloit last year and as was proven last evening endeared himself to many Beloit people. Those who came were members of the "Praying Band" which was organized during the revival and they have held their cottage prayer meeting in Beloit each week since the meetings closed until last evening when they came up to enjoy one more service with "Brother Joe," as they affectionately call Rev. Medes. After the prayer service refreshments were served and the self-satisfied guests departed on the 11:15 car for Beloit, wishing Rev. Medes and family success in their chosen work and joy in the new home.

McCue & Buss Soap Offer.
About two years ago the owners of Liquezone announced to soap chemists that they desired to obtain a soap that was better than any other soap in existence. And they offered an order for one million cakes to the chemist who could produce it.

After eight months of experimenting, the order was secured by a Frenchman. He produced a soap which proved itself best by every standard and test, though a hundred soaps were submitted. He also produced a perfume which gave his soap a more exquisite odor than had any other soap submitted.

This is now the famous Liquezone soap advertised extensively in the Magazine at 15c a bar. Saturday it is to be sold as long it (1000 bars) lasts at 6 for 25c. McCue & Buss.

One Minute Washer

You'd be surprised how hard it is to stop the machine when once this wheel gets up speed. Two strokes of the handle are usually sufficient to get under headway, then the flywheel does half the work.

THE THREE ESSENTIALS Clean Washing—

The "One Minute" Washer washes cleaner than other machines on account of twice the agitation of clothes being secured through any given movement of the operating handle. Each forward and backward movement of the handle causes a like motion of the clothes agitator, forcing the clothes to the outside of the tub and against the corrugations. By reason of this high speed agitation of clothes, cleansing currents of hot, soapy water are forced through and through every fabric, removing all dirt in less time and without wear on the garments. This principle, also, creates more suds, thus meaning a saving in soap.

Easy of Operation—

The "One Minute" Washer we claim, without dispute, to be the easiest running machine on the American market. The principle of employing reciprocating motion through compound operating levers develops three times the power of rotary motion, thus accomplishing the desired result with one-third the labor. Furthermore, the ball-bearing fly-wheel attachment under tub relieves the monotony of jerks and sped variations so common and tiresome in other makes.

Timely Work—

The "One Minute" Washer in operation is in keeping with the full sense the name implies. It runs easier than others and has a higher speed agitation of clothes, therefore, must do the work in less time, all things being equal. It saves time, labor and soap. One trial is sufficient to demonstrate the truthfulness of all claims made.

SPORTING EDITOR'S NOTES

DIAMOND GOSSIP.

Blair, the New York Americans' New Catcher, a Clever Player.

THE CARDINALS LOOK FAST.

Umpire Hank O'Day Says the St. Louis Nationals Are Strong This Season. Patey Donovan Grieves—McQuillen in Good Shape.

One of the youngsters tried out by the New York Americans who has made a hit with the fans is Walter Blair of Wellsboro, Pa. Last season hitting was not Blair's strong point, but under Kid Elberfeld's tutelage he has improved wonderfully.

CATCHER BLAIR OF THE NEW YORK AMERICANS LEAGUE TEAM.

Blair has been a professional only two years, both of which were passed with the Williamsport team of the Tri-State league. He can handle all sorts of pitching, is a clever outfielder and will be available for suburban duty should any of the suburbanites get injured.

Mention pitchers to Patey Donovan, manager of the Brooklyn National league team, and a storm that would make a Kansas cyclone look like a soft spring zephyr will break loose.

It was not enough that Patey, whom he had looked upon as the pitching find of the season, should be taken from him. He has the satisfaction of knowing that he himself willfully sold Hunter, who recently shut out the Atlanta team of the Southern league with two hits.

Hunter, it is true, did not make as impressive a showing as Patey.

but he did show real big league caliber. However, Patey is consoling in a measure by the thought that later on, if he keeps up his good work, he can buy Hunter back again.

Hank O'Day, dean of National league umpires, says that the St. Louis team is sure to be among the leaders of the race at the finish of the season. Hearken, children, for when Hank speaks he says something.

"The Cardinals have a splendid chance of being up in the National league race this season. It is no longer a club league. I don't care if the Chicago club plays better ball than it did last year. It will never have such a walkover for the pennant.

"There are four or five clubs in the league that have been building up during the last two years, and this is the year they are going to jump into the race. No club seems to me to have improved more than this St. Louis club, and I mean it, every word, when I say it has a chance to be up in the fighting."

McQuillen of the Philadelphia National league club, who pitched great

PITCHER McQUILLEN OF THE PHILLIES ABOUT TO KICK ONE OVER. ball during the latter part of last season, is again demonstrating that he is capable of delivering the goods. McQuillen has a fine assortment of curves, knows how to mix them up and has good control of the ball.

PROHIBITION HIT BY BARTHOLOLT

NOT ATTACK ON MOVEMENT BEFORE HOUSE COMMITTEE.

CALLED "DEVILISH" DEVICE

"Fanatics" Are Threatened with a Counter Crusade and Are Accused of Disregarding the Constitution.

Washington, Apr. 30.—A spirited attack on prohibition was made Wednesday by Representative Richard Bartholdt of Missouri, before the house committee on the District of Columbia which has under consideration the Sims bill providing for prohibition in the district.

"Prohibition is a devilish device to nail the human family more securely to the cross of King Alcohol," he declared. He also declared that the professional prohibitionist had "corrupted women and children" and that they had "cracked the whip" over state legislatures. "Now," he continued, "they are trying to crack the whip over the congress of the United States. But this attempt we must regard not as a command but as a danger signal. Above all things we must remember that prohibition does not succeed in its purpose and that it does nothing but promote lawless drunkenness."

May Be Counter-Crusade.

Mr. Bartholdt intimated that if the prohibitionists kept up their crusade the opponents to the movement may do some crusading themselves.

"If this thing goes on," he said, "if these prohibitionists open the Pandora's box of government inquiry and prohibition, we may go still farther than even they intended. We may investigate whether or not many American homes are deserted because the wives and mothers spend their time on the streets and on the hustings agitating for prohibition. We may try to ascertain whether or not many of the so-called 'temperance drinks' which are consumed by American women in weakening quantities are alcoholic, and do endless harm."

Can't Reason with Fanatics.

Mr. Bartholdt said that outside of insanity there is only one other state of mind which cannot be reached by the force of reason and that state is fanaticism. "The pipe dream of these people," he continued, "is bound to be followed by a rude awakening. The realization will surely come that legislation is always a failure in this line." He claimed that prohibition was parading "in the respectability borrowed from the arguments of a church movement" that its advocates ascribed to the "demon" all the failings of youth, all our ills, all the matrimonial troubles of the world.

A disregard for the constitution was another charge made by Mr. Bartholdt against the prohibition leaders. "They are willing to split on the constitution," he said, "in order to carry their point." He told the committee that his members would be called patriots by posterity "for refusing to tear down our constitutional liberties without duly considering the matter," and said that this was the most important subject now before congress.

YELLOW PINE MEN TO COMBINE.

Holding Corporation with Capital of $300,000,000 Proposed.

St. Louis, Apr. 30.—Lumber men, representing companies comprising in their holdings about 5,000,000 acres, or practically all of the yellow pine timber of the south, have been holding a conference for the past two days, and it is understood the purpose of the meeting is to form a holding corporation or merger, not only to conserve the timber supply, but also to maintain equitable prices on yellow pine products.

It is stated that the proposed organization will be capitalized for $300,000,000, and because of the heavy corporate fees and other restrictions in Missouri the concern will probably be incorporated in Delaware or New Jersey. That the companies may not run counter to the anti-trust laws, the government has been duly advised and the details of the proposed corporation and the scope and general purposes fully outlined.

Low Fares Helped Railroads.

Des Moines, Ia., Apr. 30.—With the two-cent fare law in operation for the greater part of the period, the eight representative railroads of Iowa show a net gain of $383,057 in passenger earnings for the year ending January 31, 1908. Notwithstanding a falling off of $380,000 in the gross earnings for the same period, the conclusion is drawn that the reduction in price of mileage has benefited the railroads as well as the people.

Gov. Sparks Paralyzed.

Steno, N.Y., Apr. 30.—John Sparks, who for the past three weeks has been in San Francisco visiting his daughter, returned to Reno Wednesday suffering from a stroke of paralysis. The governor is in a very serious condition. He is unable to move either of his hands.

First Boat at Head of Lakes.

Superior, Wis., Apr. 30.—The package freighter "Munsey" of the Anchor line arrived at the head of the lakes Wednesday. This was the first boat arrival of the season from below the Soo.

Start Digestion

When digestion fails, for any reason, it is vital that you start it. The only way is Kodol, for nothing else can digest all foods. The relief is instant and complete. Please note our guarantee.

It is wrong to suffer from indigestion, when Kodol means instant relief. Please let it digest your food.

If your ankle was lame you would aid it. If the body was weak you would rest it. It is far more important to rest the weak stomach.

Not by dieting, for that means partial starvation. The body requires many sorts of food. To cut out some elements means to rob some parts. But let Kodol, for a little time, do what the stomach can't do. Then see how quickly the stomach recovers.

Undigested food grows hard, and irritates the stomach lining. It causes inflammation—sometimes ulceration. That is the source of the pain. It also ferments and forms gas. It decays and breeds germs. And those germs load the blood with their poisons. That leads to serious troubles.

Don't think that the stomach can ever get strong while these conditions continue.

stant. It even begins in the mouth—by increasing the flow of saliva.

The action of Kodol can be easily proved, either in the stomach or out of it.

Eat what you need of the food that you want, and take Kodol. Note the absence of pain and gas. You know to a certainty that the food is digesting.

Or you can see it digest food in a test tube, under proper conditions. In these laboratory tests, Kodol digests every whit of the food, just as it does in the stomach. All other digesters digest but part of the food, just as they do in the stomach.

Don't employ half-way measures, for the stomach needs complete relief. Any undigested food will, through irritation, interfere with the cure. Nothing but Kodol does all that must be done. No other digester can digest all foods.

Our Guarantee

We ask you to prove these statements at our risk. Buy a dollar bottle of Kodol, and ask for the signed guarantee. If the results are not as claimed, take the empty bottle back with the warrant, and your druggist will return your money.

This offer applies to the large bottle only, and to but one in a family. This is sufficient to prove how much Kodol means to you.

If you need relief, won't you learn how to get it on such a fair offer as that?

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1.00 bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c bottle.

Fortune for New York Lawyer.

A fee of $800,000 was paid a New York lawyer, William D. Guthrie, for breaking the will of the late Henry B. Plant, owner of a system of railways, steamships and hotels. The Diet Craze.

There seems to be a growing belief that our mental as well as our physical health depends entirely on our diet. People want to explain everything by what they eat or drink. It is a craze, and like all crazes, it has no serious foundation. The secret of health remains what it ever has been—viz., general moderation and rational exercise.—Barcelona Gazet Medica.

PAYS FOR ITSELF FOUR TIMES A YEAR

A Gazette subscriber says he saves the subscription-price of the paper four times a year through its advertisements. Pretty good argument is contained in that statement, which was made a few days ago by a workingman. He says that his wife consults the advertisements in the Gazette entirely for her shopping and is able to save enough on her purchases to pay for the Gazette four times over. This illustrates the fact that the public read store news,—and why shouldn't it? The buying of necessities, no matter what, is of vital importance. The point of question brought by business men as to whether advertising is read is fully answered. It resolves itself into the quality of material placed in the advertisement as to the quantity of serious notice it receives from the public. Every person who thinks enough of a newspaper to pay for it, reads it, and reads it thoroughly. The Gazette is well thought of. It covers every foot of the city and county and the Janesville field, and is like a member of every family it enters. Its circulation is sworn to and guaranteed by the advertisers' Blue Book, of which A. A. Seaver is actuary. Mr. Seaver recently made an investigation of the circulation of the Gazette and states that this paper is added to his guaranteed list. The Gazette's circulation is increasing steadily and the average daily issue shows over 4500 copies a day and about 2300 semi-weekly.

ARREST OF MRS. BARKHURST AND NINE OTHER SUFFRAGETTES BY THE POLICE OF LONDON.

London, Eng.—The suffragettes continue to annoy the police and civil authorities. This episode of the women who demand equal suffrage with men is sensational in the extreme. This failing they now stand around the house of parliament and hear just how the men and those sharp, shooting, agonizing pains drive you almost crazy, take Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and get relief. They drive out the pain by their soothing effect upon the nerves. When taken as directed they are harmless, and leave no bad after-effects. That's the reason they are so popular with all who use them. Your druggist can tell you what others in your locality think of them.

"I do positively think that Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are the best medicine ever put upon the market. I find them so useful and soothing, and without any bad after-effects, I have suffered with neuralgia so that my system would not take any more, and I cannot take any more, but I can take these pills, and they always relieve me. No one that suffers with neuralgia need fear to take them. I know they will not form a habit, for if there was any opiate in them I could not take them. Just one in the morning when I feel bad, and I can do my work all day."

DR. MORGAN DIX IS DEAD.

Rector of Trinity Church, New York, Passes Away.

New York, Apr. 29.—Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, rector of Trinity Protestant Episcopal church since 1862, and one of the city's most prominent clergymen, died Wednesday night at Trinity rectory in West Twenty-fifth street. Death was due to heart failure.

Dr. Dix was 81 years of age and was born in this city. He was ordained a priest by Bishop Alonzo Potter at Philadelphia in 1852. Trinity corporation, the holdings of which include the historic edifice in Lower Broadway, opposite Wall street, is probably the largest and wealthiest individual church organization in the world. As rector of this parish, Dr. Dix had under his immediate direction nine churches and 26 clergymen. Dr. Dix was a son of Gen. John A. Dix, author of the famous dispatch, "If any one attempts to beat down the American flag, shoot him on the spot."

THE CAPTAIN OF the KANSAS

By LOUIS TRACY.

Author of "The Winds of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light," etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1908, BY EDWARD J. CLODS

He heard the crash of bullets against the ship's side. A volley of stones smashed several more panes of stout glass, many arrows were imbedded in the woodwork, but he calmly pulled another cord and blew a single loud blast on the siren. That was the agreed signal to warn those below that they must expect to be attacked from the fore part of the vessel. His shoutgun was lying on the table. He took it up and faced forward again. Several canoes were scurrying past and away from the ship as fast as the current and many arms could propel them. He fired both barrels at those within range on the port side. He reloaded, and the sharp snapping of revolver shots told him that Tollemache and the Chilean were busy.

But the Indians were demoralized by the complete failure of their scheme. They had ceased firing and stone-throwing; they were flying for their lives. Courtney wheeled round on Suarez. "Now!" he cried, pointing to a spearing trumpet. Suarez ran out on deck, put the megaphone to his mouth and roared after the discomfited enemy a threat of worse things to store if they dared to come near the ship again. As he used the Algonquin language, the sounds he uttered were the most extraordinary that Courtney had ever heard from a human throat—a compound of hoarse, guttural vowels and consonants ending in a series of clicks—and the stentorian power of his lungs must have amazed the Indians.

Courtney saw that the two boats were combining forces about 500 yards to the westward. They were close inshore, but none of the savages landed, nor did they heed for the more remote Otter creek. As he was anxious to keep them on the run, he resolved to try the siren again. He judged rightly, as it transpired, that they would fear the blow of the fog horn even more than the flying missiles which had dealt death and serious wounds so lavishly.

He knew sufficient Spanish, gleaned by signs, to bid Suarez hold the siren cord taut for a minute. While the "Kansas" was still trumpeting forth loud blasts of defiance he ran down the helms companion. Mr. Boyle and the tiny garbison of the port promenade deck received him jubilantly. They had escaped without a bruise and away to their position were able to witness the Indians' retreat.

He raced across to starboard and found that by unfortunate coincidence a Chilean dromon in Tollemache's detachment had been shot through the brain. The poor fellow was prone on the deck. It was only too evident that a doctor's skill could avail him naught, so Tollemache had decided that he should not be taken below. The incident marred an easily won victory. Courtney was assured in his own mind that none of the men had been injured, seeing that he and Suarez, who occupied the most dangerous position, were untouched. This fatality was a mere blunder of fate, and it grieved him sorely.

Even while he bent reverently over the casualty Chilean's body the deafening vibration of the fog horn ceased, and he heard Elsie's glad cry from the saloon:

"Oh, my, here comes Joey! That means that Captain Courtney has left the bridge."

The girl's joyous exclamation, her tribute to a poem of thanks that the dreadful necessary slaying of men had ceased, was a strange commentary on the shattered form stretched at the commander's feet. Among the small company on board it had been decreed that one at least, after surviving so many perils, should never see home and kin again.

He gave orders that the dead man should be carried to the poop to await a sailor's burial. Then he turned and, with less sprightly step, descended the main companion. In the saloon he found Elsie and Christobal watching the stars expectantly. The girl had the dog in her arms, and Courtney perceived for the first time that Joey's off fore paw had been cut by the broken glass which littered the floor of the chart house.

"Then the attack had really failed?" was Elsie's greeting. "I saw some of the canoe turn and scurry away. That was the first good sign, and then Joey came."

"You saw them?" repeated Courtney, his bent brows emphasizing the question.

"Yes. I was looking through one of the ports. Was that wrong?"

"Which one?"

She pointed. "That one," said she, wondering that he had never a smile for her.

"Then you must obey orders more faithfully next time. A man was shot dead by a stray bullet not three feet above your head."

She paled, and her eyes fell before his stern gaze, which did not deceive her at all, for she read the unspoken agony of his thought.

"I am sorry," she murmured, "not so much on my own account, though I shall be more careful in future, but because some one has suffered. Who is it—not one of our own people, I hope?"

"If you undertake to hold the dog, Miss Maxwell, I will bind his paw."

"A fireman. I think his name is Gamm. You have hardly seen him, I fancy, but I regret his loss exceedingly. It must have been the merest accident."

The captain of the Kansas was certainly preoccupied or he would never have failed to inquire the extent of Joey's injury. Nor would either he or Elsie have forgotten that Christobal was not "one of our own people," though the girl might protest hotly against any invidious twisting of the phrase.

The Spaniard missed nothing of Courtney's solicitude for Elsie's well-being nor of her shy confusion. Christobal was under no sort of doubt that unless another "accident" intervened he had lost all chance of winning this woman's love.

But he swallowed the bitter knowledge and said:

"If you undertake to hold the dog, Miss Maxwell, I will bind his paw."

"Oh, my sticky darling little pet! Did I actually forget all about his dear wounded little foot? And he came hopping in so bravely, too, carrying himself with such a grand air. Come, then, Joey, dear! Let us see what has happened. Yes, this is the doctor, but he won't hurt you. He is so good and kind to little dogs. He will wrap up the bloody part until it is quite nice and comfy."

CHAPTER XIV.

ON his way back to the deck the captain encountered Suarez.

The Spaniard led the Englishman toward one of the peep-holes in the canvas screen. Sure enough, the canoes were making off toward Otter creek. In the marvelous clarity of light it was easy to see the threatening arms held out toward the ship by a few men who stood upright. Even their raucous cries were well audible. Courtney was glad he had not missed this demonstration of defiance. It argued the necessity of continued watchfulness.

The general attitude of the crew was one of real annoyance that the fight had not been carried on at close quarters. The Kansas bore tokens in places of the battle. Many bullets and arrows had struck the ship, the canvas was torn in several places, a number of port lights were broken, and the open decks, fore and aft as well as the spar deck, were littered with stones. He picked up some of these missiles, men's earliest and latest projectiles. They were round and heavy. A few bore the red streaks of oxidized iron; some appeared to be veritable humps of ore, though the action of water had made them "smooth stone out of the brook." He showed one to Tollemache, who seemed to possess a good deal of out of the way knowledge, and the latter instantly pronounced the specimen to be almost pure copper vanned with silver.

The captain saw to the reverent burial of poor Pietro Gamm, entered full details of the fight in the ship's log and helped Walker to search the suspected coal for a further supply of dynamite, as the utility of the surface mines had been demonstrated beyond a doubt. He thought it possible, given the necessary time, to rig a device which would be practically invisible. A fresh set of dummy poles, which the Indians would probably avoid in the event of a second attack, might deflect the canoes into the area of new mines laid at sea level.

Their utmost diligence brought to light no further supply of the explosive. Evidently the captured lumps of each, each containing a stick of dynamite, which were placed in the bunker at Valparaiso had been conveyed on board by one man, so it was more than likely there was not another ounce of the stuff on the ship except the three specimens first discovered. Those, water soaked and useless, were locked in a drawer in the chart house.

While scrutinizing the bunker Courtney found a grubby piece of paper, crushed into a ball and anagrammated with coal dust by means of the glue or other substance which had been used for making the bombs intended for the destruction of the furnaces. He examined it carefully, believing it had the appearance and texture of cartridge paper. He placed it in his pocket and, while changing his clothes before joining the others at supper, came on it again with a certain surprise. He plunged it into a basin of hot water, and it yielded its secret. It was the outer wrapper of a stick of dynamite. It bore the circular stamp of the manufacturers, the Sociedad Anonima de las Costas del Pacifico. "This in itself meant nothing. The same company probably supplied hundreds of mines with the five pound boxes in which dynamite is packed, and if the stamp were the only clue mine could possibly say when or where it had been issued for use.

But miners are apt to be careless. Men accustomed to dynamite will handle it with an astounding disregard for danger, and here was a case in point. Some Spanish overser, evidently at a loss for a memorandum tablet, had scribbled hieroglyphics with an indelible pencil on this particular wrapper. It was clear that the figures and abbreviated words referred to the development of a cross heading and the position of certain leads, but Courtney was quick to see that the official who made those notes would recognize them; hence the mine or store from which the package had been stolen or brought could be identified. Such evidence was of highly circumstantial value. Courtney put the wrapper in the same drawer as the cartridges, entered in the log the time and manner of its discovery and forthwith dismissed it from his mind.

It was almost dark when he went on deck. The wind was keen and chilly. It whistled through the broken window of the wheelhouse and seemed to have in it a promise of bad weather. But a glance north and at the sky beyond the southern headland—Point Kansas, as it was called on board—reassured him. The far flung are over-head was cloudless. The stars of the southern hemisphere, vivid and bright, though less familiar than those of the north, were reflected in the black water. The ship was so still, the surroundings so peaceful, save for the plash of tiny waves created by the breeze, that he was almost startled when a soft voice came from the lower deck:

"Where in the world have you been, Captain Courtney? Joey is fretting for you, and I have carried him all over the ship in vain search."

His heart jumped with gladness. Elsie was awaiting him at the foot of the companion. He sure he was by her side without needless delay. The dog wriggled in her arms, so she said:

"I don't think he ought to run about. His dear little paw is rather badly cut, and there may be more broken glass on the deck."

"I hope not, for our Chilean's sake," laughed Courtney. "I heard Mr. Boyle telling them to sweep it up, and they were hard at work when I went to my cabin."

"Oh, is that where you hid yourself? No wonder I could not find you. Of course Joey knew where you were. How stupid of me!"

"Please don't call yourself names, Elsie. You don't deserve them. And, by the way, may I address you by your Christian name? It slipped out today unwares. Not that I feel like apologizing, because I don't. There are times when the heart speaks, not the guarded tongue."

Luckily the darkness covered the hot blush which leaped to her cheeks. She gave a nervous little laugh and strove desperately to hurry this wholly unexpected assault.

"I shall be delighted if you always call me Elsie. It sounds friendly, and I think our circumstances warrant a true friendship."

"Excellent! I suppose you know that my name is Arthur?"

"Yes, but I had no notion of that sort of exchange. You are the captain, and a very serious sort of captain at times. I feel like a little girl when you look at me and tell me not to be naughty, so 'Elsie' sounds all right, but I simply dare not call you 'Arthur.' Just imagine what a sensation it would create in the saloon! I should feel creepy all over. And hadn't we better be?"

"Elsie," said he, with a tender note in his voice which thrilled her like a chord of exquisite music, "I want to tell you something. The knowledge is forced on me that there is another man on this ship who wishes to make you his wife, but I, too, love you, and I see no reason why I should stand aside for any man on God's earth until you tell me with your own lips that you prefer him to me."

"Oh!" gasped Elsie and "Oh!" again, but not another word could she utter, who had been so valiant a moment ago. The bitterness of hearing this sudden avowal was almost overpowering. Her ideals of honor and truth were shocked, but she was a woman as well as an idealist, and she was stirred to the depths of her soul by the knowledge that she had won the man whose love she craved.

"I want you to listen to me, Elsie," he said, with a passionate intensity that stilled the rising storm in her bosom. "Dr. Christobal may have pleaded his own cause already. It is not for me to cavil at him for doing that, but I cannot lose you without a word. Whether you marry him or me or neither of us, I shall love you forever. I want you to know that. It is no new discovery to me. I think my heart went out to you when I carried you in my arms through the gale, and since that hour you and I have had experiences denied to most men and women ere they reach the conclusion that they are fit mates for the voyage of life. Do you feel that, sweetheart? Have we known each other ten days or ten years?"

His face was very near to hers now. His arm was around her neck. It was shadow dark where they stood in the shadow of the bridge. He could not see the tears in her eyes, but he heard her broken answer:

"Are you—quite—fair—in using such words to me?"

"Fair, Elsie! Fair to whom?"

"Because—oh, how can I tell you? Are you free to—to speak to me in this way?"

"Elsie, I am pledged to no other woman, if that is what you mean. Who has been telling you otherwise?"

"No one. Indeed—indeed, I alone am to blame. You will be angry with me, but I could not help it."

She could say no more. If she had uttered another syllable just then she would have broken down completely. Courtney placed his hand under her chin and lifted her unresisting lips to his. He kissed her twice and laughed softly, with a glad confidence that sent a wave of delight coursing through Elsie's veins.

Washington, April 29.—Mr. Evans expects to speak until recess tomorrow, after which Mr. Stanbery will begin to read his brief. If he is not able to go on the remainder will be read for him. It is about three hours long. The prospects now are that Mr. Hingham will begin some time on Friday, and close on Saturday evening.

Washington, April 30.—Senator Sumner's resolution concerning Nelson, came up after Nelson had made some remarks disavowing any intentional disrespect for the Senate, but admitting that he referred to a duel. Johnson moved to lay the resolution on the table, which was agreed to, 35 to 10.

The Mayor's inaugural, published in another column, shows the city to be in a sound and prosperous condition financially and in striking contrast with nearly every other city of its size in the West.

A BEAUTIFUL TYPE OF SPRING HAT OF THE EXTREME WIDTH

EAST PORTER.
East Porter, April 29.—While the weather was so unfavorable the forepart of the week many of the farmers who still hold their tobacco improved the time putting it in cases.
Mr. Stott and Miss Gardner, teachers in the Fulton graded school, were given last Monday a visiting day and spent a very profitable time visiting the grades in Milton Junction and Janesville.

Mr. Kraus's little five-year-old boy had the misfortune to get one of his fingers caught in the cream separator and crushed it quite badly last Saturday. He was taken to the doctor and had the wound cared for and is getting along nicely.

Examinations for country school diplomas will be held in the Fulton graded school on May 8th and 9th for pupils in this vicinity.

Some of the farmers had scarcely finished putting in their grain when the stormy weather came.

David White of Fulton village is doing paper hanging for Mrs. James Spake.

Mrs. N. Bushor and children of Okla. are visiting Mrs. Bushor's sister, Mrs. John Thomson.

About forty of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. John Hanson invaded their home very unexpectedly last Saturday night to do honor to the tenth anniversary of their wedding. Games, music, sociability, and a most bountiful supper were indulged in and it was truly a most enjoyable affair. Before departing Mr. Gardner in a few well chosen words presented them with a rocking chair and a stand as a token of the esteem in which they are held by their neighbors. They then departed, wishing them many happy returns of the day.

The Ladies' Aid Society will put in several boxes in the paragon soon. Thirty dollars and sixty-two cents were taken in at the Easter collection in the Fulton Congregational church on Easter Sunday.

KOREAN PLOT IS FOILED

BISHOP HARRIS SAVED FROM THREATENED DEATH.

Natives of Hermit Kingdom Had Prepared to Assassinate Missionary in San Francisco.

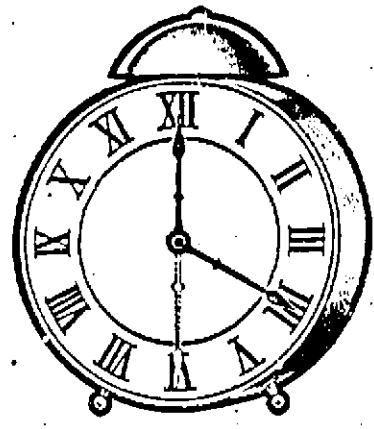

San Francisco, Apr. 30.—Warned that a number of Koreans in San Francisco were preparing to assassinate Bishop Marthian Colbert Harris upon his arrival Wednesday morning on the Pacific mail steamship Korea from the Orient, Surveyor of the Port Woodward, accompanied by a number of other federal attaches and members of the local police force, met the steamer upon its appearance in port and, placing the divine upon the revenue cutter Golden Gate, caused his removal to Oakland. The action of the government officials came in response to a request from Washington.

As a companion of the late Durham W. Stevens, advisor to Korea, who was shot down at the ferry depot while on his way to Washington, and one who had studied conditions in Korea under the Japanese rule, Bishop Harris was warned by the American ambassador to Japan and the Japanese officials before leaving the Orient to avoid making any statements on the Korean question upon his arrival at San Francisco which might be likely to arouse Korean residents in this city. While the bishop was making his way around the Pacific on the liner Korea a number of telegrams were received from Washington by local federal officials to the effect that a plot to murder a missionary upon his arrival had been formed among the Koreans of this city, and the surveyor of the port was directed to take every possible means of safeguarding the divine during his stay here.

Ireland's Largest Industry.
The linen industry is the greatest manufacturing industry Ireland possesses. There is invested in it something like $15,000,000, and it gives employment to 70,000 people.

A Study in Finance.
Why is it that, when you finally have a good bank roll, you are so reluctant to buy all those things you felt you needed?

When Time Hangs Heavy.
I pity unlearned gentlemen on a rainy day.—Puckland.

Ten minutes—and no work whatever—to serve a hot meal with Van Camp's

Simply heat the can in hot water, then open it. Pour out the beans, and you get the same freshness, the same savory odor, as when they came out of our ovens. Keep a dozen cans in the house. You will want beans every day for one meal, when you know Van Camp's. Beans are Nature's choicest food—84 per cent nutriment.

No home-baked beans can compare with Van Camp's. You lack the facilities

A fierce heat is required to make beans digestible, and you cannot apply it. That's why your beans are heavy. You lack the live steam that we use in our baking. Your beans are broken and mushy. Ours are nutty and whole. And you can't bake the beans, the tomato sauce and the pork all together, as we do. You lose our delicious blend.

Van Camp's pork and beans baked with tomato sauce

You don't know how good baked beans can be until you once try Van Camp's. There are no others like them. No others have that nutty flavor—that sparkling zest—that piquant tang. None are so mealy, so digestible. We have spent 47 years in learning how to perfect this dish. Is it any wonder we know how best to prepare it?

Van Camp's command, by several times over, the largest sale in the world

One reason is this: We pay seven times what some beans cost to secure the best beans that are grown. Another is this: We spend five times as much to make our tomato sauce as the price of some sauce ready-made. You will never buy other brands—no matter how cheap they are—when you once know Van Camp's.

10, 15 and 20¢ per can.

Six months ago the towns of Lemmon, Hettinger and Bowman were established on this new line in the Dakotas. Today each town has a population close to 500 and all branches of business are represented in them, but opportunities are still plentiful for many lines of business.
